Integrated learning – the Funda Wande approach

The Funde Wande Programme integrates Home Language Literacy with Life Skills. It does this through using common themes and integrated lesson plans and recycling key vocabulary.

Why?
- Enhances and adds depth to both subjects.
- Ensures all language skills are learnt in the meaningful context of a relevant topic.
- Simultaneously deepens content and concept knowledge of Life Skills topic.
- Broadens, deepens and recycles key vocabulary.
- Deeper understanding of concepts and how they are connected to each other improves reading comprehension and overall academic competence.
- All learning is deeper, more meaningful and more relevant.

How?
- The teacher researches the topics outlined in the curriculum to ensure new learning is not superficial.
- She understands the key concepts involved and the outcomes or purpose of the topic.
- The topic is introduced in a Life skills lesson, either orally or using a non-fiction reading text.
- Read aloud, shared reading and independent reading texts, linked to the topic, are provided for reading practice.
- Life skills lessons further develop new concepts, new vocabulary and skills linked to the topic.
- Literacy lessons further develop oral, reading, writing and language skills in this context.
- Reading and writing activities in both subjects recycle and reinforce new vocabulary.

INTEGRATED LEARNING CYCLE

1. Teacher deepens own knowledge of topic by doing research.
2. Teacher follows the lesson plans built around the topic.
3. In Life Skills new concepts, skills and vocabulary taught.
4. In Literacy, children read texts linked to the topic. All language work is based on these texts.
5. In both subjects important concepts and vocabulary are recycled and reinforced.
6. Skills in both subjects are enhanced.
Why?
• Develop listening skills
• Develop speaking skills

How?

Weekend news (Monday)
Listening & Speaking skills (Tuesday)
Listening & Speaking skills (Wednesday)
Listening & Speaking skills (Thursday)
Review of week (Friday)

Think-Pair-Share methodology
• Children are on the mat. (Preferable)
• Teacher presents problem or task.
• Think: Think in silence (1 min).
• Pair: Tell your thoughts to a partner. Listen to their thoughts (5 min).
• Share: Selected children are invited to share their thoughts with the class (5 min).
• Respond: Teacher models affirming responses to children and how to ask for clarification politely. Children learn and practise these skills.

Content
In Weeks 1–9 aside from telling personal news, and answering higher-order questions/giving opinions about texts, learners will describe a process, tell jokes and riddles, have conversations about the general news, and role-play asking for help. In Weeks 6–8, learners will do a play reading and present and read poems for assessment.
PHONICS 15 min

Why?

- Develop knowledge of letter-sound relationships in the context of words.
- Use this knowledge to blend sounds and segment sounds when reading and writing.
- Learn to spell 10 words each week.
- Recognise high frequency words/common word parts on sight through timed word reading.

Phonics Curriculum Grade 3

In Term 1, revise sounds taught in previous grades.

How?

Rapid sound recognition (Alternate days for 2 minutes)

- The aim is to develop automatic and accurate sound recognition.
- At a fast pace, show flashcards of sounds already taught (or point to them on the wall or board).
- Individual learners, groups or whole class say the sound.

High frequency words (During GGR)

- Write the high frequency words on the board or flashcards.
- Teach these as whole words.
- Read frequently, e.g. on flashcards. Each time go a little more quickly. Vary the order.

LAB activities (Daily)

- The LAB has activity pages to practice using phonics already taught.
- Walk around and assist. Provide further instruction during GGR if necessary.
  Mark learner’s sentences.
- Check answers as a class.
Timed word reading (Alternate Fridays)
- Form pairs. Each partner has a turn to read the words for 1 minute.
- Teacher times this and calls ‘start’ and ‘stop’.
- Learners circle the last word they read.
- Afterwards teacher reads all the words.
- Learners check and count words read correctly. (Subtract incorrectly read words.)
- Challenge learners to improve their score.

Dictation (Alternate Fridays)
- Dictation tests the children’s ability to spell the phonic words and to write sentences.
- Say each word or sentence clearly and slowly. Repeat it once only.
- Give learners time to write, using their best handwriting.
- Check and correct: Write the words or sentences on the board for learners to mark.
- If a word is spelled incorrectly, learners write the correct word in pencil above.

Why?
- In Term 4, learners will increase writing speed whilst maintaining neatness and legibility.
- All written work should be in cursive script.
- Children can begin to experiment with pens later in the term.

How?
- There is one LAB page for handwriting each week, which includes a lesson for each day of the week, shown with different colours.
- The learners will trace the sentence in the book each day, paying attention to correct letter formation and spacing.
- They will write the sentence twice in their exercise books.
  - Once: Writing quickly but not compromising legibility or neatness.
  - Again: Increasing speed.
- From Week 6 encourage learners to use a pen for handwriting.
- However, for Week 8 handwriting assessment children should use a pencil.
Preparation for handwriting lessons

- Draw sets of four lines on a section of the board. These can be permanent (paint) or semi-permanent (chalk dipped in sugar-water).
- Learners need LAB, handwriting exercise book and a sharpened pencil ready. No erasers!

Lesson process

Demonstrate on board
- Learners face the board for the demonstration.
- Write the sentence on the lines on the board.
- Describe/articulate any tricky parts, for example where to start, position on line, a tricky join, (upper or lower), unusual capital etc. Show the space between words.
- Model not lifting the chalk as you write and writing with a smooth flow.

Learners
- write independently in LAB, tracing over the sentence for the day
- write independently in handwriting exercise books.
- copy the sentence twice into these books, increasing speed each time.

Teacher
Wals around and provide feedback about:
- pencil grip and posture: froggy legs grip, a supporting hand on the paper, sitting up and not bending head to paper, elbow free to move.
- handwriting: appropriate pressure on paper, starting and ending position, letter formation; not lifting the pencil; neat joins.

Books should be taken in regularly for feedback.
Teacher read aloud (Monday)

Teacher read-aloud stories include literature-based stories and stories linked to Life Skills.

- The literature-based stories are linked to the Shared Reading text or to the theme.
- The Life Skills stories introduce a new theme with an appropriate narrative.

Why?

- Develops listening and concentration skills.
- Introduces rich language to extend learners’ oral vocabulary.
- Introduces different genres of literature or a new theme in Life Skills.

How?

Before reading

- Ask 2–3 questions to link to the learners’ prior experience/knowledge.
- Provide a purpose or reason for listening.

Read the story

- Use expression or dramatisation to capture the children's attention.
- Briefly explain any unknown vocabulary as you read the story, without spoiling the flow of the story.

After reading

- Allow 1–2 minutes of free response or ask open-ended questions.
- Check understanding and concentration with 2–3 questions.
Shared reading (Tuesday)

Why?
- Develops reading and language skills with the support of the teacher within a meaningful context.
- These skills include: comprehension, vocabulary development, sentence construction and reading fluency.

How?

Before reading
- Orientate children to the text by drawing on their prior knowledge, reading the title, and looking at 1–2 illustrations. DO NOT TAKE MORE THAN 2–3 MINUTES.

Shared reading
- Read the story with the learners. Learners follow, joining in where they can, and pointing to the words in their LABs as you read.
- Read fluidly and with expression.
- With subsequent reading, as learners begin to read more confidently, drop the volume of your voice. When you encounter difficult words or phrases, raise your voice.
- Each day ask the children to read a word or sentence out of context to check that they are reading and not just memorising.

After reading
- In Theme 1 and 4, learners will practise the following reading skills in separate lessons: comprehension/reading for meaning, vocabulary extension, language work, and fluency.
- In Theme 2 and 3, these skills will be addressed holistically in reading comprehension tests.
Language/grammar

- In Theme 1 and 4, key sentences are identified in the shared reading text as before.
- In Theme 2 and 3, Grade 3 language is revised in the comprehension tests.

Why?

- Develop grammar skills by identifying the purpose of individual words/word groups/parts of words in a sentence.
- Link grammatical features with specific writing genres, e.g. experiments, mind-maps, newspaper articles.
- Build understanding of correct sentence structure.
- Develop children’s writing confidence.

How?

Introduce the sentence

- Write the key sentence(s) on the board. Read with the learners.
- Learners locate the sentence (s) in the text and underline/highlight it.
Vocabulary

Vocabulary/flashcard words are identified in each shared reading text. Children will hear and see the words and learn to read and write them. The English words on the back are a bridge to English.

Why?

- Extends reading vocabulary.

How?

Vocabulary flashcards

- Make flashcards for the five vocabulary words each week or theme.
- Write the English words on the back of each flashcard.
- Place them on the Word Wall and read daily.
- Work with the words: point out an aspect of the structure of the word (e.g. the number of syllables, beginning sound, ending sound etc.) etc.

Find the words

- Re-read the story, or part of the story (what to read is indicated in TG) as shared reading, with the learners.
- Learners find and underline/circle/highlight the vocabulary words in the text.
- Discuss the meaning of each of the words.

Practise reading and writing the words

- Learners may write the words as part of the LAB activities.
- They copy the vocabulary words into their Personal Dictionaries.
- In addition, they can work with the flashcard words in groups as described.

Bridge to English

- English versions of the vocabulary words are discussed with the learners.
Fluency practice

Why?

- Develop the ability to read quickly, accurately and with expression.
- Oral Reading Fluency is a bridge to comprehension: if learners read words quickly and accurately, they will be able to focus on the meaning of the text.
- Repeated reading practice develops fluency.
- Assessing the number of words a learner can read in a passage in one minute gives the teacher a good idea of their reading ability.

Independent reading (Every day, parallel to GGR)

Daily independent reading is an important feature of the Funde Wande programme to develop reading for understanding.

Daily, grade level, general knowledge, texts are provided for this purpose. The texts are read during GGR time.

Why?

- Develop independence in reading to prepare learners for higher grades.
- Provide daily decoding and reading practice.
- Develop reading motivation by reading interesting, authentic texts.
- Deepen learner’s background knowledge, which contributes to comprehension.
Independent reading texts
- Five short texts are provided each week to give children practice in decoding and reading unknown texts.
- The first text consists of sentences based on the week’s spelling words or known phonics. All the children, even the least able, should be able to sound out and read this text.
- The following four texts deepen or widen children’s background and provide reading practice. They include different genres such as non-fiction texts, chapter stories, newspaper articles and poems. They are on interesting topics and are illustrated in order to appeal to the children and encourage them to want to read.
- Each text has a short activity/questions to check learners’ understanding and to allow them to respond to the text.

Revise what to do in independent reading
- Revise what independent reading is: You read a text by yourself, without saying the words aloud. You ‘have a go’ at decoding and understanding.
- Revise what you don’t do when you read independently: Talk, stand up, give up.
- Revise what to do if you come to a word you don’t understand: Look at the parts of the word, sound out the letters, ask a friend, guess what it means and read on.
- Explain what to do if you finish the text: Answer the questions.

Review every Friday
- On Fridays, the teacher reads the week’s Independent reading texts to the learners while they follow in their books.
- Discuss the texts, answer questions orally, and learners self-correct their work.
Group Guided Reading (Every day)

Why?
- Provides differentiated teaching to small groups of learners who have similar abilities and needs.
- Uses appropriately levelled texts so learners experience reading success.
- Opportunity for checking progress and teaching new reading skills.

How?

Guided Reading Groups
- Divide the class into five groups of similar abilities.
- Call each group to work with you for 15 minutes at a time, twice a week. (If this is too difficult to organise, spend 30 minutes with each group once a week.)
- For non-readers, this will mean spending time teaching and revising the letter-sounds and blending these sounds to make simple words. (Without this knowledge, learners will be unable to progress to actually reading.)
- For readers who cannot manage grade-appropriate texts, find, or write, easy texts, or borrow a set of grade 1 or 2 anthologies/books for the children to read in GGR.
- For readers who can manage grade-appropriate texts, choose from
  - the anthology or any other levelled readers available
  - the week’s shared reading text
  - one of the independent reading texts.
- This is your special time with each group. Check progression. Use teaching opportunities to teach or develop their reading skills. Note: With some children, you may have to go back to basics and teach reading from the beginning.
- Diagnose where even more help is needed and set a time for this.

Independent writing

Why?
- Helping learners write meaningful text and express themselves with clarity and ease.

How?
- Copy the activity onto the board as shown in day-by-day notes.
- Learners’ writing is done in writing exercise books.

Single lessons
- In the brief pre-writing discussion (2–3 minutes), introduce the task.
- Learners write freely based on the task. This is a stress-free opportunity for learners to develop writing confidence.
- Encourage and compliment new and interesting ideas and vocabulary.
- Encourage learners to ‘have a go’ with spelling.
- Marking: Comment rather than allocate a mark. This is more motivational than marks. Respond to the content. Example: Your uncle sounds an interesting person or I wish I had visited Durban.

Double lessons (on consecutive days)
- This is more structured writing to teach learners to write correctly in a specific genre.
- In Term 4 the genres are: experiments, newspaper articles, stories and thank you letters.
- Each genre is linked to a reading text as an example. Use this to point out text features such as paragraphing, headings, subheadings and layout.
- In the first of the two writing lessons, there will be some preparation activity (e.g. shared writing, mind map, writing a draft).
- In the second lesson, learners will write their final draft. This is part of process writing.
- Wherever possible, have children read their writing to a friend or group so they can check that it makes sense and self-edit.
Marking: Mark these more structured texts
- Allocate 50% of the marks for the content
  - Look for: logical writing, not random thoughts; ideas that deviate from your example; interesting word choice (adjectives, adverbs, pronouns that make the writing more interesting); paragraphing based on one topic per paragraph; understanding of the genre.
- Allocate 50% of the marks for language and spelling
  Look for: sentences rather than phrases; correct sentence structure; appropriate punctuation; correct spelling; consistent tense use; appropriate tense for genre; variation in length of sentences; correct layout and organisation.

Written comprehension

In Term 4, learners are prepared for the standardised, formal, comprehension tests that they will encounter in higher grades. These comprehension tests require close reading of one or two pages of text, and include integrated vocabulary and language items, as well as different types of questions.

Why?

- To teach learners to find answers in the text (that is, not by memorising the text but by a close look at, or analysis of, the text).
- To introduce learners to different types of question formats that they may encounter in external or standardised tests, e.g. tables, multiple-choice, checklists, gap-fill, full sentences, etc.
- To introduce learners to different levels of questions, so that they are able to see the link between a question, the type of answer required, and where the answer will be found. Learners should be able to identify if the question is a Search and Find (literal), Read and think (inferential) or On my own (personal opinion) question.
How?

Read the comprehension questions

- Explain what is required when answering different types of questions. Explain only the question types for that week, e.g.
  - Completing a table: represent the information from the text in a table.
  - Multiple-choice question: read all the possible answers and tick/circle only the correct one.
  - True/False: read the statement and write T or F
  - Gap-fill: select a few words to complete the sentence
  - Full sentence: answer the question using a full sentence with correct punctuation.
  - Sequencing of events: number the events in a story

- Remind learners of the different types of answers that may be required:
  - Search and find – literal: the answer is right there in the text.
  - Read and think – inferential: The answer is suggested in the text but you will have to think about it and write it in your own words.
  - On my own – personal opinion: The answer is not in the text but in your own head.

Written work

- Children complete the written comprehension exercise in the LAB.
- If there is time, mark the activity with the class, explaining why particular answers are correct or why different answers are appropriate with some questions.
BEGINNING KNOWLEDGE

Read to learn lessons

Why?

- Develop read to learn skills for future textbook and non-fiction reading.
- Develop a knowledge of the structure of non-fiction texts and organisational devices such as tables.
- Develop skills of transferring knowledge.

How?

Prior knowledge

- As for shared reading, read the title and orientate children to the topic.
- Find out what they know about the topic already (orally).

New knowledge

- Point out the structure/format of the text, e.g. table, Venn diagram, experiment, labelled diagram, comparison, paragraphs with subheadings, photographs with captions etc.
- Read the text to the children, explaining any new words in context.

Writing

- Read the activity linked to the text.
- Children complete the LAB activity.

KWL lessons

Why?

- Help learners build knowledge by integrating new information with what is already known.
- Provide practice in formulating their own questions and looking for answers.
- Provide writing practice.
- Encourage learners to reflect on what they have learned.

Monday & Tuesday:
Beginning Knowledge/PSWB; Visual Arts, PE

Wednesday & Thursday:
Beginning Knowledge/PSWB; Performing Arts, PE

Friday: Theme review, PE.
How?

Copy the KWL chart on the chalkboard (One chart per theme)

Use the chart from the LAB as shown below. Please note the prompts are for the teacher’s information only.

Think-Pair-Share

- Think: On their own, learners think about what they already know about the topic.
- Pair: Learners discuss together what they already know.
- Share: Some learners tell the class (give everyone a chance over the term). Teacher records some ideas in column 1 of KWL chart on the board.

Writing

- Ask learners what they want to learn about the topic. Encourage all learners to formulate questions. Write some questions into Row 2.
- Learners choose at least one thing from each row to copy into their KWL charts, or write their own ideas.

Reflect on what has been learned

- Go back to the KWL chart for the theme.
- Ask questions:
  - What have we learned?
  - Did we find out what we wanted to know?
  - What do you still want to find out?
- Help learners to write their answers in the chart.

Thumbs up/thumbs down (also called Concept checking questions)

Note: In Term 4, this is done only at the end of the theme.

Why?

- To deepen learners’ knowledge of key concepts.
- To assess learners’ understanding of key concepts.

Activity

- Choose three key concepts related to the topic and write each one on a flashcard.
- Hold up a flashcard and ask learners to read it aloud.
• Make three statements related to the concept.
• Ask learners to put thumbs up if the statement is true and thumbs down if it is false.
• Repeat for the other two concepts.

Bridge to English

Why?

• To prepare learners for reading textbooks in English in Grade 4.
• To develop learners’ academic literacy in English.

• Display the completed work in the classroom.
• Make a collection of waste materials to be used for 3D art.
• Visual Art – develops skills such as line, colour, texture etc. Painting, Drawing, collage, etc.

Processes and products

This text is an introduction to the Life Skills theme of Products and processes. The teacher reads it on Monday (see TG page 29).

The learners look at the pictures on LAB page 15 as they listen.

Let's talk about two important words that you may have heard before: product and process.

A product is something that we can use. It is things that are made by people such as toys, books, clothes and food.

A process is how something is made or done. It's the steps we take to make a product. Baking a cake is a process.

Today we’ll look at something we all eat – maize or mielies – and think about maize products and the process of making them.

First, we start with the maize plant.

Maize is usually planted in the springtime. During the summer, cobs of maize form on the plants. These contain the seeds or kernels of maize. In autumn, when the maize is ripe it is harvested.

On big farms, a machine called a combine harvester, cuts the maize stalks.

The harvested mielies are transported to a factory. Firstly, the maize is cleaned and washed. Any small stones and dirt are separated from the kernels.

The kernels are processed into different products.

Samp is made by grinding the kernels between two huge stones to break them into smaller pieces.

To make mealie meal, the kernels are ground in a hammer mill which beats them into a coarse powder.

Corn flour is made by rolling the powdered maize until it is very fine and then sifting it through huge sieves.

For popcorn, the kernels of maize are cleaned and then dried ready for people to cook them in hot oil or in a microwave.

To make cornflakes, the cleaned maize kernels are soaked in water until they are soft and mushy. A machine forms the mush into flakes. These are then cooked in an oven until they are crunchy, before they are packed into boxes to be sold.

Most of the food we buy in shops is processed. What other foods can you think of that have been processed?

READING

Teacher read-aloud

Before reading
- Introduce the topic of processes and products:
  - Have you ever been to a farm? What plants did you see growing? What happens to the plants once they have been harvested?
  - Provide a purpose for listening: Listen to find out more about the products we get from plants.

Read the text to the learners

After reading
- What is a process?
- What is a product?
- What are some maize products?

- The painting on page 11 is called Employment of Negroes in Agriculture. It was painted by an African American man called Earle Wilton Richardson in 1934.
- The picture shows four African American people working at picking cotton in the USA. One of them is a child. He painted it to show that many African people were treated unfairly in the USA. African cotton pickers were paid very badly and even children were forced to work.

Learn about people in paintings
- Many paintings have people in them. Sometimes the figures are next to each other but often some are close to the front and some are further away.
- Usually the figures are at different levels, some sitting and some standing.
- We call this the relationship between the figures.

Analyse a painting
- Look closely at the painting. What relationship is there between the figures?
- Answer the questions in the LAB.

Class discussion
- Do you think figures in the front of the picture should be bigger or smaller than figures at the back? Why?
- Where would you place the most important figure in the picture?

Disasters are things that happen suddenly and can cause a lot of damage and harm to people, animals and the environment.

Some disasters are called natural disasters because they are caused by natural things like the weather or the movement of the Earth’s crust.

Disasters caused by weather include floods, droughts and tropical cyclones which bring a lot of rain and wind and cause a lot of damage. Wildfires in forests are sometimes caused by lightning.

Some examples of natural disasters caused by the movement of the Earth’s crust are earthquakes, tsunamis and volcanoes. When an earthquake strikes, the land moves and causes damage to buildings and the surrounds. A tsunami is a huge wave which is caused by an undersea earthquake. The water causes damage when it reaches land. You will learn more about volcanoes this week.

Some disasters are caused by humans. Many fires are caused by people who are careless with matches or candles. Some natural disasters are also caused by humans. Scientists believe that climate change has caused disasters like drought and flooding.

Disasters can affect humans in many different ways. They can cause damage to homes, buildings and roads making it hard for people to get around or find a safe place to stay. They can also cause injuries or even death to people and animals who are caught in the middle of the disaster.

Disasters can also affect the environment, causing damage to plants and animals. Floods can wash away land, plants and animals, while fires can destroy forests and the animals that live there.

Although natural disasters can be scary and cause a lot of damage, it’s important to remember that there are people and organisations who help those affected by these events. These helpers are called “first responders” and they include firefighters, police officers, paramedics and aid organisations. They work to keep people safe and help them recover after a disaster happens.

- Mark two points on the bottom of the page, about ¼ way in from the corner.
- Use the ruler to join these points to the vanishing point on the horizon to make a road.
- Sketch outlines of trees or buildings along the road. Start with the small buildings/trees near the horizon and end with the larger ones near the bottom of the page. The buildings can overlap each other.

When disasters strike, many people are available to help people who are affected whether they have lost their homes and possessions or been injured. Police, emergency services and religious organisations are often the first to arrive on the scene. These people are called first responders. Next to respond are organisations who work specifically with disaster relief.

Listen carefully to this information about 4 different aid organisations.

The Red Cross and Red Crescent is a group that helps people during times of war and natural disasters. They are not religious. The Red Cross is the name used in mainly Christian countries. The Red Crescent is the name used in mainly Muslim countries.

They provide medical help, food and water, and shelter to victims. They also help people during times of war. During peacetime, they teach first aid.

The South African Red Cross Society was started in 1921.

The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) helps and supports children and families affected by disasters in South Africa and the rest of the world.

They provide emergency supplies such as clean water, food, shelter, and hygiene kits to families affected by disasters. During floods, UNICEF may provide water purification tablets, water storage containers and water treatment equipment to prevent the spread of diseases carried by water. Their main work is to protect children's rights are protected and see that they are supported.

Gift of the Givers is a South African relief organisation that works to help people in trouble around the world. It was started in 1992 by Dr Imtiaz Sooliman, who is a medical doctor.

Gift of the Givers works wherever there is a need. Volunteers are sent to different places where there are disasters of different sorts. Some of the volunteers help with rescue, some provide food and some work to re-build areas that have been damaged.

Doctors without Borders (also known as Médecins Sans Frontières) sends doctors, nurses and other medical staff to disaster areas all over the world to treat people who have been injured. The medical staff are all volunteers and are not paid for the work they do. They set up mobile clinics to help people who cannot get to a hospital. They also perform surgery in the clinics so that people can be treated immediately.

They work with local emergency services to provide emergency medical assistance.

Helping hands

Gugu, Maria and Pitso were friends who lived in Kwela Road. There had been a big storm and their playhouse had been destroyed. They found a little wet kitten under the cardboard. They rescued the kitten and brought it into the house. Later they saw pictures on TV of people’s shelters and houses which had been destroyed.

“Those poor children,” said Maria. “They must have lost all their clothes and possessions in the storm.”

The next day at school, the teacher spoke to the children. “In the bad storm this week, many children lost everything they had. They are cold and hungry. If you have anything to spare at home to give, I will take it to the church on Friday. They are collecting donations. I have an old blanket I am going to donate but anything, no matter how small, will be welcome because these children have lost everything.”

Gugu went home and spoke to her mom. They thought about what they could donate. “I think the children will be hungry,” said Gugu. So her mom gave her a tin of baked beans and a packet of Marie biscuits to take to school on Friday.

Pitso thought hard about what he could donate. Then he remembered an old pair of school shorts he had grown out of. He asked his mother if he could take them to school to donate and she said he could.

Maria had been given a new school bag on her birthday. “Why don’t you look for your old school bag,” her father suggested. Maria found it in a cupboard. She put one of her best pencils inside and took it to school the next day.

The children gave their donations to the teacher. She was very pleased. “Thank you for bringing these things. You are all very kind to think of others,” she said. She put everything into a cardboard box. Then she wrote on the outside “This box of donations comes with love from all the Grade 3 children at Progress Primary school.”

The children helped her load the box into her car that afternoon. They all felt very proud that they were helping other children.

TEACHER’S WEEKLY REVIEW

This week, I have:
• taken in the LABs and exercise books
• checked and corrected the work and identified areas of concern or specific learners needing more assistance
• referred back to the Week Overview and identified any lesson I was not able to complete
• scanned my lap book and noted any learners needing additional one-to-one teaching time or individual reading practice with me next week.

I have scheduled a time next week for:
• any class catchup or general feedback that is needed
• individual, one-to-one teaching, for example, when the class is busy or early in the morning.
I have looked ahead to next week to ensure I am prepared and have all I need to start the week.
WEEK 6 OVERVIEW

Animals that help

This theme covers three weeks. It has one shared reading text for all three weeks. Next to each page of the shared reading text is a comprehension exercise. The six comprehension exercises will be completed over the three weeks, two per week as explained in this guide. There will be slight deviations from the literacy timetable because of this.

OUTCOMES FOR THE WEEK

Learners will:
- Read and understand a play
- Understand that animals and humans help each other
- Do research about a helpful animal
- Independently, read about animals that help humans in unusual ways
- Do a play reading in small groups
- Write a summary of the play
- Complete two comprehension tests, which include vocabulary and language items.

* One group per day where oral reading aloud is assessed individually.
Once upon a time there was a mean farmer and his even meaner wife who lived on a small farm in the Eastern Cape. I am sorry to say they did not really care for their farm animals. They spent most of their time drinking.

They had a friendly dog, a cow, a goat, and some hens. But the farmer and his wife were tired of looking after the animals. The farmer said to his wife, “We should get rid of these old, useless animals. We can eat them or take them to market tomorrow and sell them for money”.

Dog and Cow had sharp ears and they heard the farmer. They were very sad. They gathered the other animals together and told them what the farmer had said. Cow said, “I think we should all run away and start a new life together, far away from the farm.” The others agreed.

They waited until it was dark and then the animals quietly left the farm. Dog led the way. The animals wanted to walk to the sea so that they could live on the beach. They walked through the night until they got to a narrow path which led to the sea. By now they were very tired.

Then, suddenly, in the dark, they heard a girl crying. Hen jumped onto Cows’ horns to see what was happening. What Hen saw was terrible. “There is an old man dragging a young girl down the path. She is crying and saying, ‘Let me go. I don’t want to be your wife.’ But he is just telling her to be quiet and pulling her along roughly”.

The animals were horrified. “We must help her,” said Dog. The others agreed. The hens said, “Let’s make a noise and I’ll peck him with my beak.” “And I will poke him with my big horns,” said Cow. “And I will butt him with my head,” said Goat. “And I will bite him with my sharp teeth,” said Dog.

The man couldn’t see anything because it was dark. But suddenly he heard stamping feet and a jumble of strange noises. Then he felt sharp horns poking his side, something biting his leg, something stabbing his head, and something pushing him over. He was terrified. He let go of the girl and began to shout for help. “Hawu! Hawu! What is happening? A mad, wild beast is attacking me!”

And he ran away as fast as could.

What do you think happened next?

You will be able to read the rest of the story in your LAB tomorrow.

NOTE: This read-aloud story is used as a listening and speaking assessment.

We have been learning how animals help people. But animals also do things for one another. Here is a story about two animals that helped each other.

Long ago, in Africa, there was a big fire. The fire travelled so quickly and was so hot that all the animals had to run away as fast as they could. All except a pair little birds called oxpeckers. They could not leave their nest because it was full of baby chicks who were too young to fly.

The parents watched the flames coming closer and saw all the other animals running. They called to them saying: “Please help us save our chicks.”

But the animals were running so fast they didn’t reply. They were too frightened to stop running. They were afraid of getting burned.

“What will we do?” said the oxpeckers. “The fire is coming closer.”

Just then Giraffe came rushing past. She heard their cries but, unlike the other animals, she stopped.

“Why aren’t you flying away from the fire,” shouted Giraffe.

“We can’t leave our baby chicks,” the oxpeckers said.

So, kind Giraffe stretched her long neck up into the tree and lifted the baby chicks with her mouth, one by one. She placed them gently on her back.

“Hold on tight,” she said as she ran as fast as she could towards the river. The parent oxpecker flew next to Giraffe to make sure none of the chicks fell off.

“Thank you for saving our baby chicks, Giraffe,” said the oxpeckers when they got to the water. “How can we thank you? What can we do for you?”

“Well, there is something you can do. I get ticks on my back. They bite me and make me sore. Can you pick them off my back for me with your beaks?”

“Oh course we can,” said the birds. “And we promise to do that forever and ever.”

And ever since that day, the oxpeckers have pecked the ticks off giraffes. You can see them today if you go to a game reserve.
MONDAY

Before reading
- Tell learners that this is a Listening Comprehension assessment activity.

Read the text to the learners

After reading
- Refer learners to LAB page 128.

- Learners complete the LAB page.
- Check and mark together.

[For Sepedi Monday and Wednesday, throughout PHONICS]

VISUAL ARTS

Space in art

- Talk about the concept of space in a painting.
- Space is the area around or between objects in a picture. Space includes the background, foreground, and middle ground of a picture.
- Point out that if you divided your page into thirds, the bottom third would be the foreground, the middle third would be the middle ground and the top third would be the background.
- By managing these areas or planes of a picture, an artist can make a flat picture look 3-D.

Look at the examples
- Look at the size and detail in the foreground, middle ground and background of the example picture.
- Read the text in the LAB.

Class discussion
- Ask: Do you think the picture looks realistic or not?

They call me Lena

Words to learn before you read the story: foal  gallop  hooves

Learners can follow the story by looking at the pictures in the LAB page 145 as the teacher reads the story.

They call me Lena. I am a donkey. I used to pull a karretjie. A karretjie is a cart that donkeys pull. When I was a foal, I ran next to my mother while she pulled the karretjie. Our owner was a sheep shearer. He went to farms to cut the wool off sheep. He was kind. When we had to pull the karretjie very far, he let us rest. He gave us water.

But when he got old, his son drove the karretjie. This boy whipped us to make us gallop with the karretjie. He laughed if we fell over stones. My hooves were broken and sore.

One day we came to a farm where a kind lady lived. The boy left us tied to the karretjie for a long time. The lady came and gave us water in a bucket. We were very thirsty. She filled that bucket many times. She let us drink as much as we wanted. She looked at our hooves and patted us. She talked to us in a soft voice.

We heard the lady talking to the boy. She talked to him in a loud voice. She shook her finger in front of his face. The boy came and untied us and let us eat grass.

When it was time for the karretjie to go, the kind lady came. She pointed to my hooves and shook her head. She gave the boy money. The boy untied me. The other donkeys pulled the karretjie away.

The kind lady put me in a field with her sheep. She told me to look after the sheep. I looked at the sheep. The sheep looked at me. We all ate the sweet grass in the field. I rested. I felt strong again.

One night, some big dogs came to the field. The sheep ran to me. The dogs wanted to bite the sheep. I kicked at them with my hard hooves. The dogs ran away.

In the morning the kind lady came. She brushed me. She said I was a good guard donkey.

ASSESSMENT

Take in and mark: Independent writing; Vocabulary; Sentences; Handwriting (Friday); IW responses
Informal: Timed word reading
South African Idols is a TV show where people who love to sing compete against each other. The winner of the TV show wins big prizes like a car and a lot of money. They also get a contract with a recording company so that their songs will be heard by millions of people.

The first South African Idols was in 2002 and there have been many seasons since then. The show is based on an England show called Pop Idols. The Idols competition has been run in 46 countries and broadcast in more than 150 countries in many different languages.

Each season has a different celebrity who helps to run the show and there is a panel of judges who decide who is the best singer. One of the most famous judges was Randall Abrahams. The most famous presenter was ProVerb.

At the beginning, there are thousands of hopeful singers. Every week, some singers go home and others go on to the next round. At the end, there are just three singers left. The public votes for their favourite singer and they win the title and the prize.

The show has had lots of really good singers over the years. Some of them have become famous in South Africa and overseas and have made lots of great music that people love to listen to. You will read about some of the winners later this week.

Even people who didn’t win have gone on to do amazing things, like Amanda Black, for example. You will also read about her this week. They have also become famous.

South African Idols is a great show because it gives people who love to sing a chance to show everyone what they can do. It’s fun to watch and lots of people enjoy it!
SCHOOL CONCERTS

WHY DO WE HAVE SCHOOL CONCERTS?

Firstly, we give concerts to showcase what learners have achieved. Concerts are an opportunity for parents, teachers and the community to see what has been learnt and for learners to take pride in what they have done.

Secondly, concerts are an opportunity for learners to express themselves creatively. A concert gives learners a chance to “perform” and polish what they learnt. This develops both confidence and skills.

Thirdly, concerts are a good way of drawing a theme, term or year together in a celebration of what has been learnt. Concerts are a fun way to involve others in the school community.

SOME CONCERT DOS AND DON'TS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Do</th>
<th>Don't</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Do start planning early. Ask permission from the principal. Look at the term plan and see what you can use that you are already doing in class. Think about songs and poems that you and the learners are already familiar with. Think who can help you – parents, an EA, another teacher. Ask them early.</td>
<td>• Don't leave everything to the last minute. You will be stressed, the learners will be stressed and the concert will not be fun. Use your checklist!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• A checklist is a useful aid in planning – look at the example and adapt it to your context.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Do consult your learners They are more likely to participate and try hard if it is something that they like doing or want to do.</td>
<td>• Don’t choose items that are very difficult or that your learners may not like. Make suggestions and listen to their responses before finalising your programme.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Brainstorm ideas with them, but make sure they understand that not all their ideas will be used. The final decision is yours.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Do build the concert preparation into your normal timetable.</td>
<td>• Don’t spend the entire term rehearsing and ignore the rest of the timetable.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Choose items that you have done or are already doing in class.</td>
<td>• Learners need to understand that the concert is a part of normal learning and not something completely separate.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• For example: If the learners have already worked on a play like “The Beast of Lusikisiki”, and have practised some poetry recitation or choral verse using the poems in the Learner’s Activity Book, then polish those items instead of starting with something completely new and different.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• In addition, use other lessons for some of your concert preparations.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Visual Arts lessons can be used to prepare props like masks, and make advertising posters.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Writing lessons can be used to make invitations, programmes and tickets.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Mathematics lessons can be used to work out how many people can be seated in each row, how much refreshments will cost, etc.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Do keep every section in the concert short and simple. It doesn’t have to be one long and complicated act to be successful.</td>
<td>• Don’t choose a play with a very complicated story line, costumes and scenery. A lot of short, related items make the concert more interesting, involve more participants and let everyone shine.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Give each class or group one short section to work on. This means you can put the whole concert together without too much time wasted and too much stress.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
• Do have one or two simple songs that everyone can sing at the same time. You don’t need a choir to sing simple, fun songs that the learners will enjoy.

• Do let everyone participate. Not everyone needs a speaking part, but everyone can join in a group song or dance.

• Do think about your venue when you start planning. If you are going to perform in the school hall, practise there a few times before the show so that learners get used to the big space.

• Do keep costumes and props simple. Remember that the important thing is what the children learn from participating in the concert, not how fancy it looks. Use hats, scarves and masks to show different characters, rather than full costumes. Let learners wear their own clothes. Borrow props from parents and colleagues. But do remember to return the props.

• Do practise enough so that learners are confident but are still enjoying what they are doing.

• Do keep checking if the learners are coping with the items you have chosen. If they are too difficult, maybe simplify the action. If they are too easy, add something more.

• Don’t choose only the top students to participate. Even the shy child or the child with behavioural challenges has something to contribute.

• Don’t rely too much on a sound system. A microphone may be available, but lots of things can go wrong. Power outages, a faulty microphone, learners who get shy when they see the mic for the first time are all possible problems.

• Don’t spend a lot of money on costumes and props. Remember that many parents do not have resources to provide fancy costumes. The school also should not spend a lot of money on something that will only be used for a short time.

• Don’t stick to the programme if things are not working. Feel free to change things, add items and remove ones that are not working.

Above all make sure the concert is fun for everyone. Everyone – children, teachers, families – needs to enjoy the concerts, including the preparation, rather than feeling that they are taking up too much time or are too stressful.
